

Ling Consortium Membership Application

The Ling Consortium is a working group of international listening and spoken language professionals dedicated to promoting the principles and practices of Daniel Ling, a pioneer of auditory-verbal practice. Members of the consortium are working on a range of projects designed to promote listening and spoken language to children with hearing loss that include Ling's concepts and approaches.

The Consortium invites applications from new members who believe that they can contribute to a current or new project. The consortium meets monthly or so during the academic year on a Go-To- Training Platform. We have a steering committee and subcommittee/ working group that members may join to address particular projects.

Some current active projects:

- Identify adaptations of Ling tools into other language systems (PLE, Ling Six Sound Test)
- Video of use with parents and professionals, and any research being conducted
- Identifying usable teaching moments of auditory- verbal learning that could be posted on the Ling website
- Translation of Ling writings or writings by others on topics in listening, speech and spoken language

Please complete the attached form for consideration by the Ling Consortium and return to Marietta Paterson, Chair: Marietta.Paterson@usm.edu

Name:

Address and contact information:

Qualifications:

Current Role:

Affiliations (university training program, service program, other):

1. Please describe your experience and familiarity with Ling's principles, writings and works.
2. How do you use any of Ling's work in your current job or role?
3. Please describe a project that you would like to help to advance with the Consortium.
4. Please indicate the time you can allot to participation in the Consortium.